

Got in touch via Instagram - now they are releasing a song together on Spotify

Melvin Sjögrell, 20, who earlier produced songs for other artists now releases his first deephouse/pop influenced song under artist name “Lagoh”. The song “Your Loss” (feat. Clara Paulin) is being released on all music streaming platforms on the 30th of August.

Melvin Sjögrell, who’s from Gotheburg, Sweden, has earlier produced for other artists, but this will be his first release under his own artist name. Melvin have produced the song himself, and written lyrics together with Clara Paulin, 19, from Marsstrand, who also is responsible for the singing.

–I saw one of her stories on Instagram where she sang and I thought it sounded great. I sent her a song I had been working on for a while and asked if she would be interested in working together. The week after, we met for the first time, and three week after that, the song was done.

Earlier when Melvin have been working with artists the whole working process have been through the internet. He has been sitting at home in Gothenburg and the artists he have been working with have had their base in the USA.

–Everything have been going very fast even though we only have known each other for a short period of time. The song is called “Your Loss” and is about a heartbreak. In order to create emotion we had to be very personal with each other and share feelings you usually don’t share with others. Especially ones you only have known for a couple of weeks.

The song Lagoh - Your Loss (feat. Clara Paulin) is available on Spotify, Apple Music, and Soundcloud etc. on the 30th August.
